TOWNSHIP VOTES AGAINST OIL CONTROL

MRS. CAROLINE DACE ANSWERS SUMMONS OF DEATH AT NILES HOME

INSPECTION TOUR OF COUNTY HOMES DRAWS LARGE BODY

Address Delivered At the California Nursery
Grounds

Over 150 persons were members of the party which toured southern Alameda county Friday and inspected the demonstration houses and gardens, health centers, and county libraries throughout this section. The inspection tour was held under the leadership of Miss Mary Barnby, county librarian, Mrs. Maryetta Holman, home demonstration supervisor of the University of California, and Mrs. A. O. Pimentel, chairman of Alameda County Better Homes committee.

Picnic lunches were eaten by the group at 11:30 a. m. at the California Nursery grounds in Niles. The nursery people served coffee to the party and set up tables for the lunches. An interesting talk on the historical adobe located on the nursery grounds and on landscape gardening was delivered to the group by J. A. McDonald. Mrs. A. O. Pimentel presented a talk on Better Homes, while Mrs. Roland Bendel told a story in demonstration of the story telling hour she conducts every week in the Niles library.

Stressing the economic value of improving homes and the neighborhood, Don M. Leidig, of Hayward, also delivered a well-received address to the gathering. Many Niles people were members of the touring party.

MAN BREAKS LIMB IN RAILROAD YARDS

Peter Bonatti, age 54, a transient, suffered a fracture of the right leg early Monday morning when he tripped and fell over the rails in the Western Pacific railroad yards at Niles.

The broken leg was set by Dr. E. C. Grau at Niles and the injured man sent to the Highland Hospital in Oakland.

Chimney Blaze Checked By the Niles Fire Unit

A chimney fire at the home of Mrs. J. Brunelli on Third street, Niles, Saturday morning brought out the Niles fire department who extinguished the blaze with no damage done.

Deceased Led An Active Life During Her Long Years

Death struck again in Niles this week, taking Mrs. Caroline A. Dace Sunday morning at her home in Niles Canyon where she has resided for the past fifteen years. The deceased was eighty-two years of age at the time of her passing. She had been ill four months.

The Dace family have lived for the past forty years in California coming across the plains by wagon train. Before coming to Niles, they had lived in Fresno and for a time in Berkeley.

Mrs. Dace was born July 24, 1850, near Rushville, Illinois, where she grew to womanhood. She was united in marriage to John B. Dace on September 2, 1867, at the same place. To this union were born ten children, of whom only two survive, Mrs. Cora L. Hill, of Niles; and Mrs. Mae B. Joy, of Kansas City, Missouri. Her husband, two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Brown and Mrs. Cora McBride, both of Yakima, Washington, also survive, as well as two grandchildren, Mrs. A. V. Hill and Mrs. Ed. Olsen, and four great grandchildren.

This loving mother, grandmother and wife has been exceptionally active all her life, even until recent months. This is evidenced by the fact that within the last year she had an active part in her sixty-fourth wedding anniversary.

Among the community enterprises in which she was actively engaged was the Hazel Circle of the Women of Woodcraft, a Niles organization, and in the Golden Gate Hive of the Ladies of the Maccabees. These organizations sincerely mourn her passing.

Funeral services were conducted from the Chapel of Chimes in Oakland Tuesday afternoon with Reverend E. G. Brinkmeyer, of Niles, officiating. The body was cremated at the same place.

POPULAR TRAFFIC MAN ATTENDS SCHOOL

Duffy Lewis, state traffic officer in this section of Alameda county, left last week for Sacramento where he is attending the California Highway Patrol training school being held for two weeks at the state fair grounds.

Lewis has received considerable praise for his efficient work as a traffic officer during the time he served the state in this capacity. He is one of the most popular highway patrolmen in the east bay territory.

NILES CAYON IS SCENE OF LARGE FRENCH GATHERING

Foch Lodge Holds Third
Annual Picnic Sunday
At Stonybrook

The growing popularity of Niles Canyon as a holiday resort was evidenced by the huge picnic held by members of Oakland and San Francisco French colony at Stony Brook park Sunday.

Several hundred French families gathered in the canyon to pay their respects to the memory of the late Marshal Foch at the third annual picnic held under the auspices of the Beneficial Order of Foch lodge, which had its origin in Oakland. John A. Mouchou, French publisher, was hailed as honorary president of the day. He is one of the founders of the lodge and served as its first president. A fleet of 200 automobiles led by Pierre La Barthe, formed the caravan to the canyon.

Over forty young women from the French Athletic Club served on the committee, acting as dance hostesses for the day. In addition to dancing, athletic and gymnastic stunts by men members of the athletic club were witnessed by the gathering. Both French and American games also were played during the day, and sport activities being climaxed by a tug-of-war between the married men and single men with the losers taking the role of waiters for the huge barbecue which followed.

MONDAY NILES CHAMBER MEET IS DEVOTED TO OIL BILL DISCUSSION

DECOTO BERRY MAN DRAWS $50 FINE FOR FRAUD

Another arrest was made Monday morning in the effort to curb the apparently growing practice in this section of the county to deceive the fruit buying public when Y. Arima, of the Decoto Berry Farm, was taken into custody for violation of the California Fruit, Nut and Vegetable act.

Arima was arrested by W. B. Kirk, county agricultural inspector, and taken before Justice of the Peace J. Harder, of Hayward, who fined him $50 when he pleaded guilty. Arima is said to have placed large and fine quality strawberries on the tops of boxes he was selling while those at the bottom were of inferior grade.

Niles P. T. A. To Elect New Officers

The regular meeting of the Niles Parent-Teachers Association board was held Tuesday with regular business being transacted. The regular meeting of the organization will be held next Tuesday, and will be featured by the election of officers for the coming year. Everyone has been urged to attend this meeting.

FISHING TRIP
Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Grau and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bonde and family spent Sunday fishing in the Santa Cruz mountains. They reported a fair catch of trout.

SMITH GETS HIGHEST DEMOCRATIC VOTE

In a comparatively small total vote, Washington township Democrats turned out for the primaries Tuesday to give Alfred E. Smith the majority of their ballots, with Franklin D. Roosevelt coming in a close second. John D. Garner, who captured the state, was last in Washington township.

In the township Smith received a total of 214 ballots, Roosevelt, 177, and Garner, 152. The heaviest vote for Smith took place in Centerville where he polled sixty-seven. Niles' Bourbons polled their largest vote for Roosevelt, giving him fifty-nine.

An emphatic denunciation of the Sharkey Oil Bill was voiced by the entire township when the measure was overwhelmingly defeated, polling 1334 "no" ballots and drawing only 360 "yes" votes with one precinct unaccounted for. The referendum measure to prevent the lease of state owned

School Display Held For Election Crowds

The artistic display of pupils' work at the Niles grammar school exhibition during Public School week was continued until Tuesday of this week in order to allow more visitors to witness it. Many who turned out for the primary election Tuesday visited the school and saw the exhibit.

Permit Issued To Paint Parking Signs In "Bottleneck"

Sounding a warning against the establishment of a monopoly in this state with the major oil firms in full control of the oil industry, Al Thompson, of Oakland, exhorted members of the Niles Chamber of Commerce, at their regular meeting, to vote no on the Sharkey Oil bill which was up for the voters' approval at the primary election held Tuesday.

Independent oil producers have been responsible for keeping the price of gasoline down to the point where it is at present and if major companies were given the control which the Sharkey bill would provide, a hardship would result for the many auto drivers in the state, according to the speaker.

In the interests of humanity, of the movement to decrease unemployment, and all the oil using public as a whole, Thompson urged the civic body members to defeat the measure. Thompson's address was followed by a lively discussion of the bill by the chamber, although it was decided that the body should not endorse the proposed legislation one way or other.

A permit has been issued to the Niles chamber by the state highway department to paint parallel parking signs in the "bottleneck" on First street, it was announced Monday by A. J. Petsche, secretary. The permit will last for six months. Be-

THE VALLEY OF THE LOUP

EVERY STATE, every section, every county and almost every township in America has beautiful scenery.

In the spring nature washes up and puts on its Sunday suit. The hills are covered with flowers, and the unplowed lands with a green carpet of wild grasses. In the virgin spots, found here and there along the streams or in the ravines and hills where cultivation is unprofitable, the eye drinks in the beauty of it all and marvels that God is so good to man as to give him so beautiful a place in which to live. And for all this gorgeousness there is no charge; the poor as well as the rich may feast their eyes on nature's pulchritude.

The writer has always thought that the Loup Valley, back in Nebraska, was, in the early spring, the grandest sight eyes ever rested upon. But that was where we were born, and that makes a world of difference. As we grow older, each spring our thoughts turn again to that winding river between low undulating hills, the uplands covered with wheat and rows of corn breaking through the black loam of the valley. On one of these hills lie buried our father, our mother and our sister. We alone of the family await a grim messenger, knowing that our earthly remains, too, shall find a final resting place there.

Those who are native of South Alameda county may glory, also, in the landscape of their nativity. A prettier sight can hardly be conceived than the view from the Castlewood road. On that ledge overlooking the country beyond Sunol to the abrupt mountains rising at the far end of Alameda creek valley, the eye takes in a view to which no artist could do justice. The Almighty made a picture here that canvas has never duplicated. Words cannot describe it, and so, enraptured in this marvelous handiwork of God, mortal man is held spellbound as he looks over the vista of greenery; valleys, dales, rivulets, sheer rocks and fecund acres lying so peacefully and contentedly in the hollow of this mighty hand of nature.

Yes, the world is an adorable place, indeed. If it is drab to some, man made it that way. If it is filled with trouble and strife, this unnatural state was born of greed and wickedness. God made it good and beautiful, and all of man's diseases and iniquity cannot baffle the beaming face of nature.

NILES GRAMMAR NINE DROPS GAME TO CENTERVILLE

Wildness of Pitcher Results In Defeat
For Niles

When Reno Quarteroli lost control of his slants in the third inning and issued eight free passes to first, the Niles grammar school baseball nine lost a 7 to 6 decision to the Centerville grammar tossers last Thursday afternoon on the Washington Union high school diamond.

The Niles boys were leading by a 5 to 0 count until the fatal third inning when Quarteroli's wildness coupled with erratic fielding paved the way for a Centerville win. Oliviera finished the game on the mound for Niles. The Centerville nine got three safe blows from the combined offerings of Quarteroli and Oliviera, while the Niles boys mustered nine safeties. However, Roy Ketashima, Centerville chucker, kept them well scattered.

Fred Andrade hit a circuit clout for Niles in the second inning, driving one run in ahead of him. The Niles boys will meet Alvarado Friday.

Track tryouts for the field day to be held at the Washington Union high school Friday took place at the Niles school during the first of the week.

"WHICH LOVED MOTHER BEST?"
Mother's Day

Sunday attention will be directed to the one who has meant so much in this life of love and happiness. Rev. E. G. Brinkmeyer will devote much of his service to Motherhood, but as has been his custom he will not make the occasion one of extreme sentimentalism. Much of the activity on Mother's Day is beyond the point because it centers at the one time, while mother has to live and work the year around. But, one day set aside during the year may have much to do in impressing upon motherhood, and especially the young motherhood, this particular social relationship has also some definite responsibilities.

By the Way

Miss Irma Hodges will sing "Mother Mavourneen" at the Sunday morning service. Shall we be present to hear her interpretation?

Christian Endeavor met Sunday night with eighteen members present. The meeting was presided over by the minister, who brought some interesting reports on the Asilomar Young People's Conference last summer. He was assisted by Everett Mendenhall, Niles delegate at that time. New games were greatly enjoyed while the evening was closed fittingly with the service of dainty chocolate cakes for all.

Special

A special meeting of the church has been called by the minister for Sunday, May 8, following the morning service. Every member is earnestly asked by him to be present as this is a very important meeting.

Electric Cooking is Economical...Modern...Clean

"I can't get away!"
"My dear... I wish we'd known about electric ranges before"

SHE never had time to go any place. Repeatedly she made excuses that really meant, "I can't go because dinner isn't ready."

Now she has a modern electric range. Her husband urged her to buy it. It seemed like the right kind of cooking apparatus to him. It was quiet, cool and run by a clock that set heating units to work at their job of cooking food. Thermometers turned off the radiant electric coils that did the cooking. It didn't require someone to stand-by as stove watchman.

Are they satisfied? Are the 210,000 California women grateful to the freedom electric ranges are granting them? Of course they are.

The modern electric ranges roast meat, steam vegetables, bake cakes and pastry to a noticeably better and more healthful tastiness. And the answer is in the even radiant heat that electricity alone can give.

Electric ranges too, are economical in operation. A considerable amount of the cooking can be done on stored heat in thickly insulated ovens, after the current has turned off. That is why examination of 1,117 electric range users' accounts show the average cost of cooking with electricity is but 1 cent a meal per person.

MORE ON WASHINGTON HIGH

half, California School for Deaf and Dumb, fourth, with fifteen and Emeryville last, with nine.

In the Class C competition the Washington boys were victorious, gathering a total of fifty points to thirty-five for Hayward, ten for Emeryville, and two for the Dummies.

In the main track meet, Dick showed his heels to rival sprinters in both the 100- and 200-yard dashes and turned in a leap of twenty feet, three inches to take the broad jump and better the existing record by five inches. By negotiating the century in 10.4 seconds and copping the 220 in 23.4, he also shattered the existing marks in these events. Dick was high point man of the meet with fifteen and three-fourths digits, followed by Virgil Capurro, of Hayward, with ten points. Logan took the only other first for Washington when he broke the tape in 880-yard run.

Eleven of the thirteen records established at the first meet last year were shattered Saturday.

Meet summary follows:

SCHOOL PUPILS WILL WITNESS NAVAL PAGEANT

Thousands of school children from all parts of central California will participate next Saturday and Sunday, May 7 and 8, in the largest educational excursion ever conducted by a western railroad, in connection with the present assembling in San Francisco bay of the combined American naval forces.

Unique in transportation annals, the excursion will be carried out by Southern Pacific company on the lowest fare basis ever established—less than one-half cent a mile—in order to make it possible for school children of central and northern California points to witness the mighty naval pageant in San Francisco bay.

In addition to the half cent a mile fare for school children, a rate of three-fourths cent a mile will be in effect for parents, guardians or school instructors accompanying the students. Service will be arranged to bring the excursionists into San Francisco Saturday morning and the return trip can be made Saturday evening or Sunday.

More than 125 of the American navy's proudest ships are at anchor in San Francisco bay, with 41,000 men on shore leave and the giant craft open to inspection to all visitors, according to E. W. Clapp, general traffic manager for the Southern Pacific.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL PUPILS HOLD VOTE FOR PRESIDENT

Debate Teams To Meet Irvington School Next Week

Members of the eighth grade class in civics at the Centerville grammar school put their knowledge of politics into practice Tuesday when they held a primary election for the democratic nominee as president. After a spirited ballot, Roosevelt was acclaimed the leader, getting 478 votes, Garner was next with 322, and Smith received 106. In a choice between Garner and Hoover for president, Garner was elected with 644 votes to 568 for Hoover.

The Centerville school debate team will swing into action again Tuesday, May 10, when two debates will be held with the Irvington school. The Section "A" team representing the eighth grade will take the affirmative side on the question "Resolved That Nations Should Disarm," while the Section "B" team representing the seventh grade will debate the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved That City Life is Better than Country Life." W. E. Gravestock, of the Washington Union high school faculty, will act as judge in the forensic clash.

The Centerville debates recently won a debate from Irvington, and have displayed marked ability in verbal argumentation.

WASHINGTON NINE LOSES CONTEST TO COLLEGE TOSSERS

San Jose State Teachers Take Nine to Nothing Ball Game

After completing the southern Alameda county league baseball season with an impressive record of ten wins and no defeats, the Washington Union high school nine cracked Friday afternoon when they dropped a 9 to 0 contest to the San Jose Teachers' College varsity.

The game was a seven-inning affair and was played on the San Jose diamond. Except for inter-college competition it marked the close of baseball hostilities at Washington high school this year.

Friday's contest was fairly even until the sixth frame when the college tossers dented the home rubber for six tallies chiefly due to errors on the part of the Cornhuskers. Rivers, Washington backstop, overthrowing first with the sacks populated proved a costly blow to Washington hopes.

Ketashima and Amaral worked on the hill for Washington and allowed ten bingles, while the Cornhuskers were able to collect only five safe blows from the slants of Simoni, San Jose twirler.

San Jose tallied one run in the first, one in the third and fourth, and six in the sixth. The Washington boys lacked their usual batting punch and were unable to get but two men beyond second base during the game. Faria slammed out a three-bagger in the sixth canto, but was out at the plate when he attempted to stretch it into a home run.

LARGE NUMBER OF SUBSCRIBERS SHOWS SWIM POOL INTEREST

Final Results of Drive To Be Given Tonight at High School

With over $3500 realized and a total of 527 individual subscribers on record, ultimate success for the Washington township swimming pool drive seemed assured at the conclusion of the last report meeting held at the high school Friday night.

The large number of subscribers throughout the township indicates an enthusiastic interest for the realization of the pool, and campaign leaders feel confident the project is now a certainty.

Because of the feeling Friday night by committee members that more subscribers could be obtained during the coming week, it was decided to hold a final "clean-up" report meeting at the high school Thursday night (tonight) when final results of the drive will be made known.

Although individual subscriptions have not been generally as large as had been expected, the fact that representative residents throughout the township have given the campaign every support has been especially heartening to those actively engaged in putting the drive over.

Business was poor, so far as "cash received" was concerned, in the Pleasanton justice court last Tuesday. Nevertheless, Judge C. A. Gale, Pleasanton, worked hard in attending to the township's weekly quota of speed-burners.

Three speeders had judgement suspended. Two other motorists will shortly "wish they hadn't", as warrants were issued for their arrest. Five cases were continued two weeks because of election day.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

With only four weeks of actual school left and final examinations looming ominously in the offing, high school students are now settled down to intensive scholastic endeavor. All social activities at the school have been completed for this school year and the minds of both faculty and students are now occupied with making the most of the few remaining weeks.

Members of the school agricultural class under the leadership of Paul Daugherty, faculty member, won third place in the agricultural judging contest held Saturday at San Jose. A large number of coast county schools competed.

Attractive models showing the latest women's apparel from pajamas to evening wraps will parade at the fashion show to be held in the high school auditorium Friday night by the home making department. This class is under the instruction of Mrs. Josephine Morris and has made all the garments to be exhibited at the show.

Some thirty students will take part in the show which is scheduled to begin at 8:30 p. m. There is no admission charge and the public has been cordially invited to attend and witness the charming attire which would cause even fashionable Parisian dress shops to take notice.

An audience which entirely filled the high school auditorium greeted the Public School Week program held at the high school last Wednesday night. The Warm Springs, Decoto, and Irvington grammar schools presented entertaining programs, while music was provided by the high school orchestra under the direction of John Kimber. P. M. Fisher, veteran member of the county school of education, delivered the chief address of the evening. Fisher has played a prominent part in county school education for the last fifty years. He first entered this work in 1877.

Over a hundred girls from the high school will go by bus to Hayward Saturday to take part in the annual Girls' Play Day for which girls from San Leandro, Hayward, Pleasanton, and Washington high schools gather together. The event will open at nine o'clock in the morning and continue until three in the afternoon. Games of all types will be played and a program of other entertainment also has been arranged. The affair will be concluded with dancing. Washington's delegation will be headed by Miss Iva Liston, high school girls' physical education instructor.

With three practice sessions being held daily for the annual senior play to be presented in the high school auditorium, Thursday night, May 26, Miss Aubrey Nicely, dramatic coach, is looking forward to a huge success for this last dramatic presentation of the school year. John Munger and Genevieve Hoaglen, the two leads for A. A. Milne's three act comedy, "Meet The Prince," are displaying remarkable ability in portraying their roles, and Miss Nicely predicts by the date of the production the last year students will present an evening of real entertainment that will long be remembered at the high school.

Woman Writes Impressions Gained On Witherly Ranch

(Editor's note. Contributed by Elizabeth H. Sloan, of Irvington, and written on the Witherly Ranch at Mission San Jose.)

THE SONG OF A BIRD (By ELIZABETH H. SLOAN)

I sat waiting. Overhead heavy gray clouds shut out the sunshine. The sudden dash of rain had sent the people in the fields scurrying for shelter, and the color splashes on the green of the pea fields melted like snow in the sunshine.

I sat waiting. The rain drifted from the great trees and beat a tattoo on the top of the machine. Here and there men were clustered in small groups discussing pea prices, the weather, etc. Under the great trees were great piles, golden in hue, a sort of green gold, for they were sacks of green peas.

I sat waiting. Over all the bustle, the talk, the noisy exhaust of the machines, the clamping of the horses, and the various comings and goings, came clearly and sweetly the song of a bird. It was startling—birds singing in the rain.

I sat waiting. The hills in front of me rose quite sharply, each one a bit higher than the other until the summit was reached, and rugged Mission Peak looked down upon us. Strung across those hills like a giant fence stood out the great towers of the power lines. Sometimes I wonder do they ever grow tired, those great towers with their outstretched arms holding such a burden.

I sat waiting. Instead of the power line towers across those hills I saw the great cattle herds of those early Spanish settlers, and recalled the stories of their gayeties, when everyone was a neighbor even though it took weeks to make a short journey.

I sat waiting. The scene changed. The vast rancheros, where lovely parks surrounded pretentious adobe houses give place to small unpretentious wooden houses. Great fields of grain appear—wonder of wonders—a great monster appears and harvests that grain. Orchards dot the landscape, vineyards cling to the hillsides.

I sat waiting. The bird sang again and lo! I was still in the park and a bright little roadster was coming up the road. A man got out and I knew now why I had waited. He was a "buyer." What would he offer for those sacks of peas that meant so much to those men gathered under the trees and was all in the day's work for them. Days of preparing the soil, sowing the seed, cultivating, praying for rain, or hoping the rain would stop. Then the finale. Would there be enough money to pay expenses and those long-borne ills. Ah! Who knows the suspense that hurts, that makes your hands grow cold with dread and your heart beat faster as you wait.

Little bird up in the great pepper tree, sing! Sing another of those joyous notes, sing so we all may hear and remember that tomorrow is another day, when those lovely red blossoms will be brighter, those lovely roses lovelier, the lawn greener and mayhap even the great old trees standing so protectively over us will seem more joyful. Sing, little bird, sing. Sing through the rain into the sunshine again!

TWO EDITORS AND AN ATTORNEY CANVASS HUGE DISTRICT

Bret Harte Country Scene of Interesting Contest for Assemblyman

BY KENNETH MEDCRAFT
SACRAMENTO — Many men,
many issues.

And thus is described California's political trend today.

With the rumblings of the Moon-ey problem still echoing down the corridors of time, the picturesque Governor James Rolph is speeding via the airways to the conclave of governors in the east. It is to be presumed that the historic South Carolina gubernatorial greeting and salutation will be amended to suit the occasion.

And then Governor Rolph will visit with President Hoover. Doubtless the president will get optimistic information as to the Republican prospects in November, and also President Hoover will be informed that Governor Rolph is not a candidate for United States Senator, asking for preferential consideration only as head of the Hoover ticket in the State.

No doubt during the conversation between the president and the governor the fact will be developed that there are five announced candidates for the Republican nomination for the United States Senate against the incumbent, Senator Samuel M. Shortridge. They are: Congressman Joseph Crail, Congressman Ralph Swing (both from the arid environs of Imperial and Los Angeles), State Senator Tallant Tubbs, from the fog kissed districts of the San Francisco Bay, and Leo Youngworth, of Los Angeles. Perhaps mention will be made of the threat of Rev. Bob Schueler, the fighting politico parson of Los Angeles to run.

Legislative Gong

The legislative gong will sound early, and immediately the fur will fly. It will start with the election of a speaker. Just at the writing there are two avowed candidates, who even now are campaigning. They are Assemblyman Walter J. Little, of Santa Monica, and Assemblyman Harry F. Sewell, of Whittier. As the assembly is controlled in point of numbers by the southern part of the state, the struggle will not be intersectional—rather political. Both aspirants for the speakership have served four consecutive sessions in the assembly. The importance of the office is readily realized when it is understood that the speaker not only presides over the deliberations of the body, but also appoints all committees, and is an ex-officio member of the trustees of the University of California.

It is discovered, for example, that one district (the Sixth) takes in ten big counties: Placer, El Dorado, Amador, Alpine, Nevada, Mono, Calaveras, Tuolumne, Mariposa and Inyo. One of the candidates who is likely to undertake the canvass of this enormous territory is Editor H. B. Thomas, of the Daily Republican, of Placerville—the town known to pioneer history as Hangtown. Another is Editor Jesse M. Mayo, of the Calaveras Prospect, of San Andreas, where lived the leaping frog of Calaveras of Mark Twain lore. Yet a third is Thomas Maul, city attorney of Placerville. Two Bret Harte editors versus a disciple of Blackstone covering ten counties for an assembly seat will be worth watching, for it will develop into a hand to hand conflict.

A glance at the map shows this district covers the backbone of the Sierras, starting with Nevada County along the Mother Lode down to the northern boundary of San Bernardino county line. It includes Lake Tahoe, Yosemite Valley, Calaveras Big Trees and the famous Tioga Pass. All of these three candidates, in order to canvass their constituencies faithfully and fully, will cover many miles and play many parts. They will rise above 10,000 feet at one point and will descend below sea level at another—Death Valley in Inyo county.

Los Angeles Controls

The assembly will be made up of 30 seats for Los Angeles county, nine for San Francisco and seven for Alameda. San Diego has three. There are six counties with two votes each—Sacramento, San Joaquin, Fresno, Santa Clara, San Bernardino, and Orange. There are eight counties with one vote each—Contra Costa, San Mateo, Stanislaus, Santa Barbara, Ventura, Kern, Riverside and Imperial. Five districts are made up of two counties—Sonoma and Marin, Merced and Madera; Santa Cruz and San Benito; Monterey and San Luis Obispo, and Kings and Tulare. Three districts are comprised of three counties—Del Norte, Humboldt and Mendocino; Butte, Yuba and Sutter; Lake, Napa and Solano. One district has four counties, made up of Tehama, Glenn, Colusa and Yolo. One district has seven counties—Siskiyou, Modoc, Trinity,

Value Of Better Homes Is Stressed In Message

(Editor's Note: Following is the message on Better Homes presented to the Toyon Branch at their meeting in the old adobe on the California Nursery grounds at Niles last Wednesday. It was written by Mrs. A. O. Pimentel, county chairman of the Better Homes committee, and read to the gathering by Mrs. R. Ben-del.) People and nations rise in the scale of intellectual greatness and moral worthiness as they respect and protect the institution of home. Herbert Hoover, our great Californian, says.

"There is the throne of our highest ideals. There is the source of our spiritual power. There is the abiding place and strength of our national character."

In accordance with these high ideals our outstanding accomplishment is Better Homes in America, an organization begun by the close of the World War as a private enterprise, to encourage home building and home ownership, an educational institution for public service in the interest of home improvements and becoming of such force of importance in helping the American people to higher standards of housing and home life during its first year, under the leadership of Mrs. William Brown Maloney, and being financed by the Delineator, warranted its incorporation on a National basis independent of the magazine which had thus far sponsored it, an advisory council made up of certain cabinet officers, chiefs of bureaus, presidents of national civic organizations, was formed. Mr. Hoover, who was then secretary of commerce, agreed to serve as its president. Mr. Coolidge was appointed chairman and James Ford executive manager and director.

"Better Homes," through its national officers and local committees, is now able to reach and give to every citizen valuable information on practical means of improving architecture, construction, landscaping, furnishing, equipment or any other details of the home and services of local specialists are rendered available.

The highly complex life of today calls for efficiency in our homes. Science and power machines are exalting home life. Today, it is the motor that traps the house dust in a vacuum, that takes the effort out of sewing, that cleans our clothes and washes our dishes, that keeps our foods cool in warm weather, that refreshes us with cool breezes on hot days. We press a button and melody and knowledge invade our livingroom—seated at ease we can converse with others across a continent or an ocean. We turn night into day with an electric thread. These and a score of like miracles we daily perform, giving to the household the best conditions for perfect living. The effects of environment upon human character is significant. Children of the best heredity may be prevented from development by conditions of environment. The home largely determines the life and development of the child. Here is where he spends his early years and if influences are good the prospects for development are likewise good. The improvement of homes is a primary means to the development of individual character. The home is not an end in itself but a means to the fulfillment of high ideals, of happiness, of family

The train caught the front end of his car and threw it back sideways to the road. The car was almost completely demolished, but Gooch escaped with a broken left arm and a crushed chest. ## An Idea That Ought to Start Something

The "Hoarding of Money" is ascribed by many economists as one of the causes of the present business depression. Two cities -- Buffalo and Rochester, N. Y.—decided to jar those idle dollars loose by advising the public, via ADVERTISING, to "Spend now what you will later."

The great success with which their campaigns met is attested to by the fact that other cities are planning to follow suit. Both merchants and the unemployed, all benefit by the idea. Hence, our reason for urging our merchants to advertise.

If every merchant in the township would start immediately advertising worth-while "buys" and keep it up consistently for six months the "depression" would be well on the way to oblivion by the time "winter comes."

Now, as always, the

DUBLIN MAN IS BEATEN ON HEAD IN BATTLE ROYAL

Brother and Neighbor Are Charged With Assault
by Virgil Oxsen

Virgil Oxsen, of Dublin, last week sworn to a complaint against his brother, Harry Oxsen, and a neighbor, Henry Casterson, both of Dublin, charging them with battery as the outcome of a quarrel between the three on the Oxen road last Sunday evening.

Virgil Oxsen told Constable Al Vervais and Chief of Police W. T. Davis, Pleasanton, who were called on the case, that one of the two men held him while the other hit him over the head with a club, inflicting two severe scalp wounds. Virgil was given first aid treatment by Davis.

In the story given Vervais and Davis by the other men, they said that Virgil attacked them first and that they were merely defending themselves. They will come up for trial before Judge C. A. Gale, Pleasanton, Tuesday.

The Gemewance group of Camp Fire Girls met last Wednesday afternoon. As their part toward the better home movement, which has been in effect the last week, the girls took the good citizen side, and decided that they would try first to be a good citizen in their own home. Each girl is to bring a report of her success in the attempt. A story was read to stress the point.

The girls worked on raffia.

IMPROVE BATH ROOMS WITH GAS WATER HEATERS

Like the modern kitchen, the bathroom has blossomed from a dreary, drippy place to a gorgeous room where all sorts of color schemes are developed in tile, equipment, and shower curtains.

However, whether the bathroom is a modest affair of white porcelain, or a sunken bath of onyx fitted with the latest glittering product of colored porcelain and modernistic chromium, its practical efficiency depends upon a constant plentiful supply of hot water. Manufacturers of water heating equipment have steadily improved the efficiency of their product to keep pace with the growing beauty of bathroom fixtures. The modern bathroom is an example of perfection both in appearance and efficiency.

Modern gas water heaters have brought to homemaking the greatest convenience since the introduction of electricity. These heaters operate automatically, absolutely without any attendance, and maintain a constant supply of hot water at all times with the utmost economy of fuel.

Even the world's finest hotel service can give no better hot water service than what the unpretentious modern home accepts as commonplace. And the commonplace service of today was not only extraordinary, but unavailable even to the richest a few decades ago.

The Niles chamber unanimously endorsed the motion of the letter to the industries in Niles and surrounding community.
